The Week of January 7, 2007
Philemon 8-16

1. How might a believer's life look preposterous (contrary to nature or reason, absurd, outlandish) to the watching world? Give specific examples of actions or attitudes of a believer that might seem absurd to others.
2. What are some of the reasons given in this passage as to why Paul thought that Philemon should forgive Onesimus? How does this apply to our lives today?
3. What do we learn about the sovereignty of God from these verses?
4. How should God's sovereignty affect the way we live our lives?
5. List several of the things that take place in a person's life when they put their faith in Jesus Christ?
